

THIS IS WHAT IT'S LIKE TO VACATION IN A BUNGALOW NEXT TO THE BEST BEACH IN THE WORLD

The Valentin Playa de Muro, which respects the horizontal model of the most sustainable constructions, is located next to the Natural Park of l'Albufera (Mallorca).

A wooden walkway connects the complex with Playa de Muro, considered by users of the well-known nautical portal Rightboat as the "best beach in the world".

On July 21, 2023. In the north of the island of Mallorca, next to the beautiful Natural Park of l'Albufera, considered a wetland area of international importance and of great ornithological richness due to its high biodiversity, is a beautiful hotel complex, which was built in 2007 respecting the horizontal models that have been so successful in the Caribbean.

We are referring to the hotel Valentin Playa de Muro, which has a garden area of more than 50,000 square meters, in which 130 bungalows of different categories are harmoniously distributed.

Most of them have elegant porches where guests can relax in full contact with nature, while those belonging to the Silver and Golden Superior categories have a small private garden with a whirlpool bath, where a hedge guarantees greater privacy.

Direct access to the "Best Beach in the World":

On the other hand, on the back? Valentin Playa de Muro borders a beautiful pine forest, which precedes the area of dunes where Playa de Muro is located, a paradisiacal enclave of more than 5 kilometers long, which competes in beauty with any Caribbean landscape.

In fact, it is usual that every year it receives international awards, and the last one obtained this year has been the "Best Beach in the World", awarded by the users of the well-known nautical portal Rightboat. To access it, the privileged customers of Valentin Playa de Muro do it through a wooden walkway, which facilitates entry into the beach while preserving its environment.
